NEWS FROM THE CIN BUREAU

The Bureau Meeting in Budapest

The Bureau of the International Numismatic Commission held its annual meeting on May 11-12 at Budapest. It was attended by the President Robert Carson (U.K.), Vice Presidents Peter Berghaus (West Germany) and Istvan Gedai (Hungary), Treasurer Herbert Cahn (Switzerland), Secretary Kolbjørn Skaare (Norway), and Michael Bates (USA), Ernesto Bernareggi (Italy) and Octavian Iliescu (Romania).

The minutes of the last meeting in Stockholm were adopted, as were the accounts for 1981 and the budget for 1982 presented by the Treasurer. The President gave his report on the activities of the Bureau during the past year, and welcomed the addition of six new members, especially those from Turkey, India and Mozambique thus spreading the Commission's representation to new areas.

A report was received from Tony Hackens (Belgium) on the progress of the publication of the Proceedings of the Ninth International Numismatic Congress at Berne in 1979. The text, amounting to some 1100 pages, was now in proof, but proofs were still awaited of the 122 plates. It was still hoped, however, that the volume would be published, probably in two parts, before the end of 1982. (The two volumes are out of press in August 1982. H.A.C.)

On behalf of the organising committee of the Tenth International Numismatic Congress to be held in London in September 1986 the President reported that planning was proceeding, especially with the arrangements for the production of the volume on Numismatic Research for the years 1978-1985. The editors of the principal sections had been appointed: Dr. M.J. Price (Ancient World), Dr. D.M. Metcalf (Medieval and Modern), and Dr. D.W. MacDowall (Oriental). The editors' first task was to arrange the team of contributors for the various specialised sections. It was decided to add also further sections on computer techniques in numismatic research and on results of archeometrical methods as applied to numismatic research. It was agreed, also, that a section dealing with research in the field of medals should be included.

The editor of the Commission's Newsletter, Herbert Cahn, expressed reasonable satisfaction with the new publication, but stressed once again that the continuing success of the project depended on the active collaboration of members who were urged to supply him with news and information. The next number is planned to be published in September 1982, and items for inclusion should be submitted to the editor by August. For the following number in March 1983, the deadline for material would be February 1983. The Commission's annual publication, the Compte Rendu 28 (1981) was tabled and approved by the Bureau. In addition to lists of members, and reports on the Bureau's activities it contains articles on the history of the Coin Cabinet in Budapest by I. Gedai, and on matters of numismatic methodology by P. Bastien and H.- U. Geiger. Copies of the Compte Rendu may be obtained gratis on application to the Secretary, Kolbjørn Skaare, Universitetets Myntkabinett, Frederiksgt. 2, Oslo 1.

A report was received from Paul Naster (Belgium) on the Commission's project Sylloge Nummorum Graecorum. Three new fascicules had been published, and a further three were in press. Work was proceeding actively on some further six parts, and there were plans for undertaking a number of new projects in various countries. On the other project under the Commission's patronage Coin Hoards, the editor Martin Price (London) reported that Vol. VI had been published in 1981, and that Vol. VII would shortly go to press. The Bureau welcomed the suggestion that there should be an index or indexes to the first ten years of the publication. Because of publication costs it was not proposed to publish these indexes but they would be available to be supplied on request to the editor.

The Bureau reviewed the programme of numismatic symposia and conferences in the near future. Exact details were awaited of the conference being arranged by the Israel Numismatic Society in January 1983 on Greek Imperial Coinage and of the meeting of the Centro Internazionale di Studi Numismatici being arranged in early May 1983 in Naples. Details were submitted of the conference to be held in Milan on 9-13 May 1983 on the mint of Milan. On the occasion of the 125th anniversary of the American Numismatic Society a conference has been arranged in New York on 9-19 September 1983. The Bureau decided to make arrangements for a numismatic section at the International Congress of Classical Archaeology at Athens in September 1983, and also at the CISH Congress in Stuttgart 29 August - 1 September 1985.

The President reported on a suggestion for producing a universally acceptable method of codifying information on Roman coins. Tentative proposals were made to arrange a meeting of interested experts possibly in spring 1983.

It was suggested that the meeting of the Bureau in 1983 should be held in England to give the Bureau the opportunity to discuss the arrangements for the International Numismatic Congress in London in 1986 with the members of the organising committee.

The Hungarian numismatic authorities extended a very warm welcome to the Bureau. The members of the Bureau were invited to the opening of a new exhibition on 'The History of the Hungarian Gold Coinage', and to a reception by the General Director of the Magyar Nemzeti Museum. The Bureau was also given the opportunity to visit the Nemzeti Bank Collection and the members were given a reception by the Lord Mayor of Budapest, Zoltan Szepvolgyi.

CONGRÈS - COLLOQUES - SYMPOSIUMS

Colloquium on 'Late Kushan Numismatics', London, November 5 - 6, 1981

The colloquium was organised by Mr. J. Cribb of the Department of Coins and Medals, British Museum, under the auspices of the Oriental Numismatic Society. The purpose of the meeting was to publicise and discuss recent advances in the study of Kushano Sasanian and late Kushan coins. The most important of these advances was the recent discovery of 10 hoards containing both Kushano Sasanian and late Kushan coins in which were found several overstrikes providing evidence of the chronological relationships between these two series (a report of four of these hoards can be found in Coin Hoards Vol. VI p. 85-108). Papers were read on the art historical and archaeological evidence as well as on the coins. The main papers delivered were as follows:

- Mr. J.E. Cribb, British Museum, The Sequence of the Kushano-Sasanian coinage in the light of hoard evidence;
- Dr. D. MacDowall, London, The Kushano-Sasanian monetary system;
- Dr. M. Mitchiner, London, The Relationship between the Kushano-Sasanian and Hun coinages;
- Dr. D. Bivar, London, Archaeological and Historical evidence of the Kushano-Sasanian state;
- Mrs. M. Carter, Madison, Wisconsin, The Iconography of the Kushano-Sasanian kings;
- Mr. A. Oddy, British Museum, and Mr. J.E. Cribb, British Museum, Debasement and sequence of Late Kushan gold coins;
- Dr. D. MacDowall, London, The sequence of Late Kushan copper coins;
- Dr. C. Burns, Westwood, California, Late Kushan and Kidarite coins;
- Prof. J. van Lohuizen de Leeuw, Amsterdam, The Second century of the era of Kaniska.

Contributions were also made by Prof. G. von Mitterwalner, Munich; Dr. P.L. Gupta, Varanasi (in absentia) and Dr. S. Kulshreshtha, Mathura (in absentia).

It is intended that the proceedings of the colloquium will be published for the Oriental Numismatic Society by the Indian Institute of Research in Numismatic Studies, Nasik, India, under the editorship of Mr. J.E. Cribb (from whom details are available).

Getragen und vorbereitet von der Universidad Internacional Menéndez Pelayo (Madrid) und der Fundación Para El Fomento De Los Estudios Numismáticos (FONUMIS) fand ein Symposium im Pazo di Mariñán, einem staatlichen Kongresszentrum, statt. Thema war die Forschung und Lehre in der Numismatik sowie deren Auswirkung auf Veröffentlichungen. Folgende Referate wurden gehalten:

Forschung und Lehre der Numismatik in Deutschland

Prof. Dr. Antonio Beltrán, Zaragoza
Forschung und Lehre der Numismatik in Spanien

Prof. Aurelio Rauta, Salamanca

Sr. Juan Cayón, Madrid
Die Bedeutung von Privatsammlungen für die numismatische Forschung und Lehre

In den nachfolgenden Diskussionen wurden Möglichkeiten und Methoden numismatischer Forschung sowie die Bedeutung der internationalen Zusammenarbeit behandelt.

Das Symposium diente zugleich als Vorbereitung für einen internationalen Kurs, der als Einführung in die Numismatik vorangeschrittene Studenten aus verschiedenen europäischen Ländern mit den Materien, Aufgaben und Methoden der wissenschaftlichen Numismatik bekanntmachen soll. Es ist beabsichtigt, für die Teilnahme Stipendien zu gewähren. Als Referenten sollen erfahrene Numismatiker aus sechs europäischen Ländern gewonnen werden. Die Kursdauer wird auf etwa zehn Tage im August 1983 berechnet. Der Ort wird die Universitätsstadt Santander (Spanien) sein. Auch dieser Kurs wird von der Universidad Internacional Menéndez Pelayo (Madrid) und der Fundación Para El Fomento De Los Estudios Numismáticos = FONUMIS (Madrid) getragen werden. Die Commission Internationale de Numismatique ist um das Patronat für diesen Kurs gebeten worden.

ITALIA

Attualmente vi sono in Italia 16 insegnamenti universitari di Numismatica: tre cattedre di ruolo, tredici per incarico o supplenza.

Le cattedre di ruolo sono:

Università di Macerata: prof. Francesco Panvini Rosati

Università di Roma: prof. Laura Breglia

Università di Napoli: prof. Attilio Stazio

Gli insegnamenti per incarico o supplenza sono i seguenti:

Università di Genova: prof. Marta Giacchero, ordinaria di storia romana
(per supplenza)

Università Cattolica di Milano: prof. Gian Guido Belloni, ordinario di storia romana alla Facoltà di Magistero dell'Università di Genova

Università Statale di Milano: prof. Ernesto Bernareggi

Università di Padova: prof. Giovanni Gorini

Università di Bologna: prof.ssa Emanuela Cocchi Ercolani

Università di Siena: prof. Nicola Parise

Università di Pisa: prof.ssa Marina Pensa

Istituto Universitario di Studi Orientali, Napoli: prof.ssa Enrica Pozzi

Università di Salerno: prof.ssa Sara Sorda

Università di Bari: prof.ssa Maria Teresa Caruso

Università di Lecce: prof. Luciano Camilli

Università di Messina: prof.ssa Maria Caltabiano

Università di Palermo: prof.ssa Aldina Tusa Cutroni.

A seguito della legge di riforma della docenza universitaria (D.P.R. 11 luglio 1980, n. 382) i professori incaricati, dopo un giudizio di idoneità, sono divenuti professori di ruolo associati. Il professore associato è una nuova figura di professore creato recentemente dalla legge italiana: un professore di ruolo con pari dignità dei professori ordinari per quanto riguarda la didattica e l'attività di ricerca, ma che non può ricoprire alcune cariche accademiche (per es. Preside di Facoltà o Rettore). Il nuovo ordinamento causerà qualche spostamento di docenti da una Università all'altra ed è probabile che alcuni insegnamenti di Numismatica debbano tacere o che se ne aprano altri, a causa del meccanismo della legge, che prevede la possibilità per il docente, che è anche assistente, di scegliere tra una sede e l'altra con il consenso della Facoltà interessata.

Vi sono inoltre 'ricercatori' di Numismatica nelle Università di Genova, Lecce, Napoli, Palermo. Il ricercatore è una nuova figura introdotta nell'ordinamento universitario italiano dalla legge sulla docenza sopra citata. Segna l'inizio della carriera universitaria; il ricercatore svolge solo un'attività didattica sussidiaria del professore titolare della materia, assiste gli studenti nella preparazione delle tesi e fa ricerca scientifica propria o in collaborazione con l'Istituto a cui appartiene.

Nel nostro ordinamento universitario l'insegnamento di Numismatica fa parte del corso di laurea in Lettere, indirizzo classico, della Facoltà di Lettere e Filosofia, ma per la liberalizzazione dei corsi di studio può essere frequentato da ogni studente iscritto alla Facoltà. L'insegnamento fa parte generalmente dell'Istituto di archeologia classica, ma in alcune università, per es. in quelle di Genova, Bologna, Pisa, appartiene all'Istituto di Storia antica. I corsi sono abbastanza frequentati dagli studenti e si hanno parecchie tesi.

La Numismatica antica fa anche parte delle materie di insegnamento delle Scuole di Perfezionamento in Archeologia Classica postlaurea a Bologna, Pisa (dove si svolgono ad opera dello scrivente anche seminari di Numismatica medioevali per gli iscritti al corso di Perfezionamento in archeologia medioevale), Roma, Napoli.

WORK IN PROGRESS

Athens

Keeper Dr. M. Oeconomides undertook the publication for the SNG series of the Christomanos Collection donated to the Numismatic Museum in 1930 (cf. CIN - Compte rendu 28, 1981, 23); she is preparing also the numismatic section of the publication of the coins from the excavations at Kassops/Epirus; an article on two hoards of Rhodian coins found on the Island; and another for the Festschrift P. Naster concerning a hoard of Greek coins found at Karditsa in 1973. She studies also two hoards of Greek coins found during the excavations of the Greek Archaeological Service at Eretria in 1981, one found at Piraeus in 1977, and is preparing the publication of the coins from the excavations in the West Slope of the Acropolis, Athens.

Assistant Keeper Mr. J. Touratsoglou completed his Doctor Thesis on the Greek Imperials of the Mint of Thessaloniki, which has been approved (1982) by the Institut für Alte Geschichte of the University of Saarbrücken/W. Germany (Prof. Dr. P.R. Franke).

Both Dr. M. Oeconomides and J. Touratsoglou have undertaken the publication for a special edition of all coin hoards deposited in the Numismatic Museum, Athens. The programme, which has been put forward a few years ago, aims in the publication in a more or less detailed way of all available information concerning find-spots, date and circumstances of finding, inventory numbers, references to standard catalogues etc.

At the same time, the above numismatists contribute, since 1981, to the programme undertaken by Dr. C. Morrisson of the CNRS and aiming at the cataloguing of the Byzantine coin hoards of the 6th and 7th centuries from all over the world.

Orléans

Le Centre des Recherches Numismatiques E. Babelon (Unité de Recherches archéologiques 27 du Centre de Recherches archéologiques du CNRS), créé en 1979, prend la suite d'une formation consacrée à des Recherches sur la structure métallique des monnayages antiques et médiévaux qui fut à l'origine de divers travaux analytiques présentés notamment par J.-N. Barrandon et C. Brenot au colloque de Rome sur les dévaluations, ainsi que par J.-P. Callu. Rassemblant des physiciens travaillant au service du Cyclotron d'Orléans, des numismates et des historiens français et étrangers, l'équipe s'est fixée quatre directions principales de recherche: la structure des monnaies et des métaux utilisés pour leur frappe (J.-N. Barrandon), la circulation monétaire d'après les monnaies de fouille (J.-P. Callu, C. Brenot), l'organisation des ateliers et la nomenclature numismatique (O. Picard), la constitution d'une banque de données numismatiques (J.-N. Barrandon, C. Morrisson). En dehors des articles publiés dans diverses revues de numismatique ou d'archéométrie (citons celui de M. Amandry, J.-N. Barrandon, C. Brenot, J.-P. Callu, L'affinage des métaux monnayés au Bas Empire: les réformes valentiniennes de 364-368, à paraître dans le tome 11 des Quaderni Ticinesi), le centre a commencé de publier aux éditions du CNRS des Cahiers E. Babelon: le no. 1, Le titre et le poids de fin des monnaies sous le règne de Philippe Auguste (1180-1223) par F. Dumas et J.-N. Barrandon devrait paraître à l'automne 1982; le no. 2, L'or monnayé de Rome à Byzance: purification et altérations par J.-N. Barrandon, C. Brenot, J.-P. Callu, R. Halleux, C. Morrisson, J. Poirier a été remis à l'impression et ses principales conclusions ont fait l'objet d'une communication présentée par C. Morrisson à l'Institut (à paraître dans les Comptes rendus de l'Académie des Inscriptions 1982). Le no. 3, en préparation avancée, sera consacré à l'or romain de l'époque impériale; il comprendra, outre les analyses et leur commentaire, la publication par X. Loriot et J.-P. Callu d'un répertoire commenté des trouvailles isolées de monnaies d'or romaines en Gaule. Les cahiers suivants porteront l'un sur les résultats d'analyses en cours de monnaies d'or gauloises de l'Ouest de la France avec la collaboration de S. Scheers, l'autre sur les monnaies de plusieurs sites bourguignons.

Les analyses de monnaies d'or sont effectuées par activation protonique (cf. J.-N. Barrandon, J.L. Debrun et M. Hours dans Congrès International sur l'application des méthodes nucléaires dans le domaine de l'art (1973), Rome, Acc. naz. dei Lincei, 1976, Atti dei Convegni XI, p. 77-85) qui permet de déterminer les éléments majeurs avec une précision de 5% relatifs et les éléments-traces jusqu'à la limite de la ppm (10⁻⁶), celles de monnaies d'argent ou de billon (sur lesquelles d'autres programmes sont en cours) par activation neutronique à l'aide d'une source isotopique de Californium 252 qui détermine les éléments majeurs seulement (cf. Archaeometry 19, 1977, p. 173-186). Le Centre met actuellement au point un détecteur portable, utilisant la fluorescence X, qui permettrait la détermination non-destructive des éléments majeurs des monnaies, sur place dans les musées ou les lieux de conservation.

Il a arrangé une réorganisation de la collection numismatique parmi laquelle se trouve la fameuse collection de Señor Don Domingo Sastre.

Indian Institute of Research in Numismatic Studies

Recognising the need for a research centre to organise the studies in numismatics to aid future investigations related to history, archaeology, art and economics, an idea has been conceived to establish an institution named 'Indian Institute of Research in Numismatic Studies'. It is proposed to locate the Institute at Nasik, which is less than 200 kilometres from Bombay and is well connected by rail and road with the metropolis. A suitable land is being acquired for the Institute. The following facilities will be made available.

The Institute will have an extensive library that will include books and journals on numismatics and allied subjects like archaeology, epigraphy, sigillography, history etc. of the world in general. In particular, the library will contain data on India, her neighbouring countries and the countries that had close contacts with India in the past.

Dr. Parmeshwarilal Gupta, an internationally reputed numismatist, has promised to donate his collection of numismatic and history books to the Institute and it would form the nucleus of this library. Similar cooperation is being sought from numismatists and institutions all over the world.

Attempts will be made to have the photographic records of all important Indian and allied coins deposited in the museums and private collections of the world. This archival collection would serve the purpose of a ready reference and provide study material under one roof, which is at present inaccessible, scattered. To make the photographs of the coins available to the scholars for studying and publication, it is proposed to build up an archive of negatives of various coins from various sources. Dr. Parameshwarilal Gupta's negative collection has already been received by the Institute for this purpose. The Institute will maintain a well-equipped photographic department for the collection of photographs for the archives. It will supply photographs to the scholars and students for their research and if necessary also for publication.

It is proposed to have a suitable laboratory where physical, chemical and metallurgical tests could be made using the latest modern methods.

Coin collection would not be a major part of the activities of the Institute. Yet, it is proposed to have a coin museum with representative specimens displayed in the galleries to educate the common people and school children.

All possible research facilities will be provided to scholars and students of numismatics. A modest hostel for scholars to stay and work is part of the scheme. The Institute will run practical courses in numismatics of different duration for museum personnel, school teachers, college teachers and lay coin-collectors for enhancing understanding of the subject.

The Institute will have a periodical research journal. In addition, it shall publish books and monographs pertaining to Indian numismatics. Seminars and lectures will be organised from time to time at the Institute for the scholars and coin collectors.

The Institute shall be headed by a full time Director. Dr. Parmeshwarilal Gupta has agreed to organise the Institute in its formative period. It is likely that he would continue as a Director after the Institute takes shape and becomes operative. There will be a consultative or advisory committee of scholars and experts to guide the Director. It will meet from time to time as required. The overall management of the Institute will be with no profit interest.

It is hoped that the construction of the building for the Institute would begin by the end of this year and by early 1983 be ready for occupation. By mid-1983, the Institute would begin functioning.
